From the President

In with the New!

We begin the new year in a spirit of exploration and adventure as we head into a new season of programming at WGBH. This month, WGBH brings you a host of inspiring, entertaining and educational premieres from Masterpiece, American Experience, Nova, Antiques Roadshow and more!

American Experience's Into the Amazon (pg. 12) tells the remarkable story of the 1914 journey taken by President Theodore Roosevelt (left) and Brazilian explorer Candido Rondon into the heart of the South American rainforest. With a crew of more than 140 Brazilians, Roosevelt and Rondon set out to explore an uncharted Amazon tributary, along the way battling the unforgiving landscape, disease and countless other dangers.

"Like all great journeys, the story of the Roosevelt-Rondon expedition reveals truths about not only the natural world, but human nature as well," says Executive Producer Mark Samels. "Leadership arises from character, and the unforeseen poses a challenge to us all. How we respond shapes our own lives and those around us—and sometimes history itself." We are proud to bring you this exciting story of humans pushing the limits of endurance and discovery.

Some of the many premieres we have lined up for you this month spotlight adventure and exploration in other realms. In the much-anticipated second season of Victoria (pg. 14), the young queen ventures into new territory as a wife, mother and monarch. Nova takes us to the farthest frontiers of science with Black Hole Apocalypse. And Antiques Roadshow (pg. 12) kicks off a season full of first-time finds, including a bank robber's escape prop!

January brings another first—the debut of Classical.org, our new digital channel dedicated to making classical music accessible and relevant to all. The site's first year will be devoted to "The Bernstein Experience"—celebrating the life and music of the acclaimed composer and conductor Leonard Bernstein on the 100th anniversary of his birth. In fact, WGBH is an official media partner of the Bernstein Centennial.

These are just some of the riches that you can enjoy on WGBH this month and throughout 2018. We are proud to share this exciting beginning to the new year and thank you for your unwavering support.

High School Quiz Show

Ever wonder what it's like to see a TV show in the making? Competition, community, cameras and you—join host Billy Costa on set for Season Nine of WGBH's award-winning TV series High School Quiz Show! Test your smarts while watching the brightest students in Massachusetts compete for the trophy. Taping takes place on Sat, 1/20, Sun, 1/21, Sat, 1/27, Sun, 1/28, and Mon, 1/29—times vary. Tickets are free, but an RSVP is required. Info: wgbh.org/events.

Worcester Art Museum

Rediscovering an American Community of Color: The Photographs of William Bullard features portraits of Worcester's people of color, piecing together a vibrant, early 20th century neighborhood and rebuilding the narratives of families who lived there. WGBH PerksConnect members receive 50% off general admission. Info: worcesterart.org.

Eric Jackson Concert Series

Stop by the Eric Jackson Concert Series for world-class performances by jazz heavy hitters Walter Beasley, Gabrielle Goodman, Nedelka Prescod, Donna McElroy, and others. Performances take place Sun, 2/11, at 6pm in the sanctuary of the Abundant Life Church in Cambridge. Proceeds from this fundraising concert series will help keep the Fifth Annual Cambridge Jazz Festival free to the public. Concert tickets range from $30 to $100. Receive $10 off your purchase by entering the promotion code: WGBH116. Info: wgbh.org/events.

Hull Lifesaving Museum

Visit the Hull Lifesaving Museum to learn the story of Captain Joshua James, his intrepid crew and their courageous rescues of sailors shipwrecked at the treacherous entrance to Boston Harbor. The museum's Maritime Program offers youth and adult open-water rowing in traditional wooden boats at sites in Hull and Boston. WGBH PerksConnect members receive free admission to the museum for two adults and two children, as well as 10% off in the museum shop; 10% off all new rowing memberships;

10% off youth education programs, which include the LEGO model maker workshops offered in February and April. Info: 781-925-5433, hulllifesavingmuseum.org.

A Tricky Nut to Crack

In often hilarious adventures, the adorable and spirited Peg and her sidekick Cat use math concepts in intriguing new ways to work out solutions to problems. In The Peanut Problem, George Washington Carver will have a total of 100 peanut-based inventions—if Peg and Cat can catch the tiny tricksters who keep swiping them.

MASTERPIECE/VICTORIA, SEASON TWO

Don't miss a minute of PBS' highest rated drama in 20 years—second only to Downton Abbey. Season Two finds Victoria adapting to motherhood after the birth of her first child, a daughter—a disappointment to many in the court. Meanwhile, the catastrophic Irish potato famine begins to wreak havoc, and the budding Industrial Revolution brings many wonders.

DEATH IN HOLY ORDERS

From P.D. James, the award-winning master of crime fiction, this classic work stars Martin Shaw (Inspector George Gently) as the intensely cerebral Commander Adam Dalgliesh. When a young seminary student is smothered to death, his wealthy father moves heaven and Earth to force Scotland Yard to re-examine its verdict of accidental death. Dalgliesh's investigation reveals an unholy litany of sinister motives lurking beneath the surface of piety and penance.

THE MURDER ROOM

In case you didn't get enough of Commander Adam Dalgliesh, here's even more: When a trustee is found murdered at the Dupayne Family Museum, the circumstances of the death mimic one of the cases exhibited in the museum's own "Murder Room." There are more copy-cat killings to come for Dalgliesh, whose work is complicated by his love for Cambridge intellectual Emma Lavenham. Will he be able to tell her his true feelings?

American Observer

In a 1979 letter to his literary agent, James Baldwin described his next project as a revolutionary, personal account of the lives and successive assassinations of three of his close friends—Medgar Evers, Malcolm X and Martin Luther King Jr. But at the time of Baldwin's death in 1987, he left behind only 30 completed pages of this manuscript. Now, in his Oscar-nominated documentary, filmmaker Raoul Peck combines the unfinished manuscript with Baldwin's published work, letters, diaries and historical film footage to spotlight one of the nation's foremost cultural observers and social critics. Actor Samuel L. Jackson reads the prescient words of Baldwin in this inspiring film that highlights the centrality of race to the American experience.

Bankrolling Wartime Science

Travel back in time to the fall of 1940, when Winston Churchill shared an important military secret with a mysterious Wall Street tycoon named Alfred Lee Loomis. Using his connections and his money, Loomis gathered the most visionary scientists of the 20th century—Albert Einstein, Niels Bohr, Enrico Fermi, among others—at his state-of-the-art laboratory in Tuxedo Park, New York, to develop radar technology that would play a critical role in winning World War II. See how a socialite helped alter the course of history.

A Broadway Legend's Untold Life

On March 11, 1959, Lorraine Hansberry's A Raisin in the Sun opened on Broadway and changed the face of American theater forever. But little is known about the playwright who died when she was just 34 years old. The granddaughter of a freed slave, Hansberry grew up in segregated Chicago, worked as a journalist in Harlem, and used her writing to expose the daily struggles of black Americans in a way no one on Broadway had done before. This documentary uses home movies, interviews and rare archival material to explore Hansberry's life as artist and activist to highlight her lasting impact.

Accountability in Oakland

With American policing under the microscope, The Force offers a mesmerizing look inside the troubled Oakland Police Department as it struggles with federal demands for reform, an uprising following events in Ferguson, Missouri, and an explosive sex scandal. This cinema vérité film spotlights Oakland's new police chief, hailed as a reformer, who is brought in to make big changes at the very moment the Black Lives Matter movement emerges to demand police accountability and racial justice across the nation.

Reconnecting after Tragedy

Veteran newswoman Ann Curry explores some of history's most dramatic events from across the globe through the personal stories of those who experienced them. This new six-part series brings together people whose lives intersected at pivotal moments. Hear about a Vietnam War baby who searches for the father she last saw 40 years ago and a military chaplain who helped a stranger during the Sept. 11 attack. Curry narrates each dramatic story of people who have survived tragedies, found love and forged unbreakable new bonds.

Spies in the Court

The long reign of Queen Elizabeth I had a bumpy start, with challenges to her rule that left her vulnerable. During this unstable and violent time in Britain's history, Her Royal Highness needed help from her loyal support staff to keep her safe. The solution? The world's first secret service. Through its early efforts at intelligence-gathering, the queen's network of spies exposed a number of plots aimed at disrupting the monarchy. Watch historians dissect the minds and motivations of key players who had a role in establishing this royal covert operation.

Following the Sun

On March 9, 2015, Solar Impulse II took off from Abu Dhabi as the first solar-powered airplane to fly around the world. Twelve years in the making, the ambitious trip was far from a sure bet. Follow intrepid pilots Bertrand Piccard and André Borschberg on their hair-raising adventure that pushed the boundaries of human flight and renewable energy. In this documentary, Nova offers unique access to the greatest aviation undertaking of our time.

9pm 2 American Experience Triangle Fire In 1911, a fire broke out in the Triangle Shirtwaist Factory in New York's Greenwich Village. Petrified workers desperately tried to make their way downstairs, but the factory owners kept the doors on the ninth floor locked. By the time the fire had burned itself out, 146 people were dead. It took the tragedy of the fire and the ensuing public outrage to force government action. The landmark legislation that followed gave New Yorkers the most comprehensive workplace safety laws in the country. (d)

Bringing You the World

The World Channel offers the best of PBS news and nonfiction programming, along with exclusive series like AfroPop, Global Voices, Voces and Pacific Heartbeat. World also produces such original series as Local, USA, featuring diverse stories culled from public television stations and independent producers nationwide, and the award-winning America ReFramed, a showcase for independent films by and about communities of difference. The theme for World Channel in January is economic inequality.

Indigenous Resistance

Wrap up P.O.V.'s New Year's marathon with an inspiring documentary that shows how Guatemala's indigenous people find empowerment after centuries of oppression. In 500 Years, Director Pamela Yates offers a glimmer of hope through the resistance and resilience of the Mayan people. Follow their struggle for freedom, from the first trial in the history of the Americas to prosecute the perpetrators of genocide in 2013 to a citizen's uprising that threatens to topple a corrupt government. This 2017 Sundance Film Festival selection answers whether genocide was part of the national culture—and whether justice will finally be served.

Wisconsin Revealed

Which state is the largest producer of cranberries? It's Wisconsin! Follow Emmy Award-winning actor John McGivern on a personal tour through his home state to learn many little-known facts about what it's like to live, work and play in Wisconsin's unique communities, from Sheboygan to Racine. Starting its sixth season, this series is an insider's guide on the best the Badger State has to offer. Historian John Gurda tags along to share some fascinating gems about local settlers, buildings and parks nestled among every neighborhood. You don't have to be a Wisconsinite to appreciate the people and the folklore of this great state.

Essential but Overlooked

They walk our dogs, make our lunches, drive us to our destinations, and deliver our packages. They are the nameless people who are essential to our daily routine. We interact with them every day, but we don't know their personal stories. This series reveals the everyday hustle of New Yorkers who support themselves and their families in jobs that blend into the rhythm of the city. Follow their struggles and successes in an in-depth look on how they chase the American Dream.

Power in Numbers

Witness the history of discriminatory laws that have created the affordable housing crisis in the United States and the community organizers who are working to overturn them. This documentary features the clash of a growing advocacy movement calling for responsible development in neighborhoods that house the poorest people versus the powerful property owners who bankroll ongoing gentrification. See how people of color are mobilizing against unsustainable rents and other forces that are pushing city residents into homelessness.

Contemporary and Controversial

Don't miss the WGBH World exclusive premiere of AfroPop: The Ultimate Cultural Exchange, an anthology on contemporary life, pop culture and the African experience. Each powerful story explores the present-day realities of Africans on the continent and in the evolving diaspora. Actor Nicholas L. Ashe hosts the 10th season of this groundbreaking series that covers unique perspectives on complicated and, at times, controversial topics, including the life of Marlene Cummins, a member of the Australian Black Panther Party, and Regi Allen's look at the differences and similarities between Africans and African Americans.

Bourdain Dishes to Boston Public Radio

Celebrity chef Anthony Bourdain, host of CNN's Anthony Bourdain: Parts Unknown, pivots from exotic fare to handcrafted wares in a new series he discussed at the WGBH Studio in the Boston Public Library.

Margery Eagan and Jim Braude, co-hosts of Boston Public Radio, interviewed Bourdain about his upcoming web show, Raw Craft with Anthony Bourdain, which features artisans who make goods the old-fashioned way.

"It's a series that highlights people who have decided, for whatever reason, to make things the old, long, extremely difficult, minimally profitable—if profitable at all—way," Bourdain said. He described these artisans as, "people who hold themselves to an almost medieval standard of excellence." In one episode, Bourdain visits a company in Southbridge, Massachusetts, that makes handcrafted drums for the rock band, Green Day.

Shifting gears in front of the live studio audience watching from the Newsfeed Café, Bourdain dished about his experience dining with President Obama at a small family-owned restaurant in Vietnam. He also recalled some of the unusual foods he has tried during his travels around the world, from raw seal eyeballs ("I've eaten better things.") to cobra heart ("It's like an oyster, but peppier").

At the end of the conversation, Braude asked about the old adage, "You are what you eat," to which Bourdain replied: "I've never had any kind of serious or close relationship with anyone who eats their steak well done."

The Gangs of Nantucket

For seven months, WGBH News Senior Investigative Reporter Phillip Martin researched and reported on a little-known issue in Massachusetts that has national resonance: An MS-13 and 18th Street gang presence on Nantucket.

Martin's four-part series, "The Gangs of Nantucket," follows the Mara Salvatrucha gang, best known as MS-13, based in El Salvador but now with roughly 10,000 members in the United States. Immigration officials in Massachusetts have arrested dozens of MS-13 and rival 18th Street gang members and deported them to El Salvador.

Throughout his reporting, Martin interviewed key Immigration and Customs Enforcement officials, Nantucket residents, police, the ACLU, Salvadorans, the sheriff of Bristol County, immigration lawyers and others. "The gang presence is real," said Martin. "But as the title of the series suggests, not all is as it seems."

"The Gangs of Nantucket" first aired during 89.7 WGBH's Morning Edition with host Joe Mathieu. Listen to all four parts of the series online at wgbhnews.org.

Another New Year, Another Beginning

By Anthony Rudel, 99.5 WCRB Station Manager

Happy New Year! Let's begin by wishing every one of the WCRB listeners a year filled with the beauty of the music we get to play each and every day on 99.5 WCRB Classical Radio Boston. And, let's celebrate the simple fact that WCRB is programmed, produced and hosted right here in Boston, for this region of the country. As we begin another year, the WCRB team is focused on bringing you the best radio and digital experience possible, with that special focus on the vibrant music scene all around us.

Central to that are the two programs that anchor our weekend evenings: The live Boston Symphony Orchestra broadcasts with Ron Della Chiesa (Saturdays at 8pm), and WCRB In Concert (Sundays at 7pm), a kaleidoscope of the best of the many great concerts that take place in the area, recorded live and turned into interesting radio programs, hosted by the WCRB team. A complete listing of these two series is below.

And don't forget our annual visit with the Boston Children's Chorus, led by Anthony Trecek-King, and their amazing concert celebrating the life and work of Martin Luther King Jr. This year, hear it on Sunday, Jan. 14—it's sure to inspire you.

The year 2018 marks the centennial of the birth of Lawrence native Leonard Bernstein. Few musicians have ever had an equivalent impact. His amazing legacy and contribution to society still resonates loudly today, more than 25 years after his death.

Throughout the year, WCRB will reflect Maestro Bernstein's output in the music we play throughout the day, in the many BSO performances that will include his music, and in some of the WCRB In Concert episodes. Stay tuned—this is a centennial that you'll want to savor.

Have a great year! May it bring you all the great music and peace you desire.

WCAI Pub Nights with a Twist Returns!

By Beth Liles, WCAI Development Manager

Need to get out of the house this winter? Join WCAI for another season of its monthly meet and greet, Pub Nights with a Twist, starting this month and running through April.

Held at various restaurants and pubs throughout the Cape, Coast and Islands, Pub Nights are a fun way for WCAI enthusiasts—listeners and supporters—to spend an evening mingling with station staff, reporters and on-air hosts.

The tradition began in 2004 as a way to connect NPR listeners and WCAI staff during the slow winter months. Over the years, the events have only gotten bigger and better!

Last year's highly popular Pub Nights with a Twist used themes related to WCAI's Living Lab, Poetry Sunday, Bird News and Local Food Report programming. Each night included a fun activity that highlighted one of WCAI's local shows, such as quizzes that challenged listeners to guess bird calls. On other nights, trivia, readings and a seed exchange helped get the conversation going.

The 2018 season will feature even more program-related content, plus plenty of time for socializing with fellow listeners and WCAI staff. "Pub nights with a Twist are a unique and fun way to connect with our listeners and bring them closer to our mission and work," said

Sarah Tribuzio, WCAI development director. "Based on the positive feedback we received from listeners last year, we are excited to bring a fresh twist to our 2018 lineup," she said. "Stay tuned for details!"

New venues include Cape Cod Beer in Barnstable and O'Shea's Olde Inne in West Dennis. Others will be announced soon. More information about WCAI's Pub Nights with a Twist, including an updated schedule, will be available on the events tab on WCAI's website. So, plan to come celebrate public radio with your friends and neighbors at the next Pub Night with a Twist!

Are Stairs a Problem?

A Stannah Stairlift gives you the freedom to enjoy the full use of your home, living independently in comfort and safety.

Stay in the home you love

Stairlifts, aren't they all the same? Getting people up and down the stairs? At Stannah, we don't agree. For example, we've designed chairs that fold up neatly at the push of a button, and recharge themselves constantly for reliable service. For stairs that turn, we developed a photo-survey system that measures with uncanny accuracy, so we can custom-make your stairlift to hug the stairs. Our outdoor model has proven itself in the toughest climates, and we have a range of options that's second-to-none.

Providing you with good value

We understand that people like choices, so we offer stairlifts that are new, reconditioned or for short-term rental. We have models for both curved or straight staircases, all with a seven-day money-back guarantee.

The leading stairlift supplier

We've made over 600,000 stairlifts (more than any other manufacturer) and have the experience to help you make a wise decision, so take the next step - call us today!
